Mes. Isaacs' First Concent.-Notwithstanding the cloudy, damp, and unpleasan evening, a large and very fashionable udience assembled early, last night, at Brainard's Hall, to hear the first of Mrs. sunce 'grand concerts. The programms embraced selections by Beethoven, Rossini, Meyerbeer, Verdi, Donizetti, Bach and Kirchnar. The opening duo, Rossini's "Regatta," is an exquisite production, and Detroit Beat was sung by Misses White and Perkins in a ery admirable manner. It was somewhat lacking, however, in spirit, and was hardly well sustained. Mr. Perabo's first solo was a sounfu from Beethovon. It is one of the nost delicate of the wonderful harmonies of that old master, and was decidedly the best of the piano solos. The "Two Preudes," by Kirchner, was faultlessly ren dered, and the "Concert Polka," by Walcom the Attorney General of the United lace, was full of spirit and dash. "Partits," tates, the prominent officers of the Fenian by Bach, was received by the auditors with Brotherhood residing in this city, were the greatest enthusiasm and was heartily escured, to which Mr. Perabo responded by playing a brilliant finale, from the Con ing and abetting violators of the neutrality certo of Norbert by Bargmuller. The aws of the United States. The officers entire performance of this really great artist elicited the warmest praise and commendation, and his efforts gave renewed evidence f his powerful and refined execution. The leading features of the concert we the soloy of Misses White and Perkins, all of which were admirably rendered and rapturiously and persistently encored. The first, T'ano' e Cacatina by Centemeri, was brilliantly sung by Miss White, with the "Last Rose of Summer" as an encore. She also rendered La Zingara, a gem from Donizetta, with splendid effect, responding to the hearty eneore by a quaint Scotch ballad, full to the brim of melody. Miss White's voice is a pure seprano, clear and wonderfully sweet, betraying the most careful training and cultivation. Her Sovernment here were bound to take such grace of manner was especially remarked, action as the case seemed to demand, witha vocalist will make her a great favorite in the concert room. Miss Perkins' first solo was the "Guard's Waitz;" encored by the beautiful Scotch ballad, "Down the Burn, Davy, Love." Robert, Torque Jaime, by Meeyerbeer, a piece of most difficult execution, was also triumphantly rendered by her, the exquirecount of this mexpected action of the itely simple and touching little song, "Maggies' Secret," being given as an encore. Miss Perkins has a very rich and flexible Seprano voice of wonderful compass and volume. Her manner is at once simple and assured, and her successful debut gives her an envi able position among our resident vocalists. The closing trie was a beautiful and spirited assection in which all the parts were exceedingly well performed. Mrs. Isasca' accompaniments were played the most perfect taste and precision. programme, embracing four plane soles by Mr. Perabo and two solos from each of the Webstanfes of last evening. EXTORTING MONRY WITH A VENGRANCE.-A case of bold rashness was before Justice

Lane, of Detroit, for examination a few days since, in which the plotter fairly and fatally in the unblushing manner detailed below, but a March and but a dispatch was sent instead of the money he demanded, and he was arrested and taken to Detroit and put under $5,000 bonds to stand trial. The following is his letter. " RICHNOND, Ind., May 21. "DEAR FRIEND Roors-I am under the

The organization was completed by the adoption of a constitution and bylaws: Article No. 1 of the constitution nominates the Association as the "Cleveland Homeopathic Dispensary Association." Its object is medical treatment of the poor.
